Emil Zugnoni, gun drawn, aids a patrolman Gerald Martin with one suspect while officer Mel Boyd handcuffs another during capture of burglary suspects at Albany, Calif. Police say the brothers William, 22, and Emmett DeSherlia, 21, of San Francisco, were nabbed as they emerged from an Albany tavern in early hours, with money, liquor and cigars.

Safety Chief's Salary Is Doubled by Council

City Council was in a generous mood Tuesday night as it doubled the pay of the city city safety director and authorized free off-street parking from Nov. 29 through December 24.

As was expected, following the appointment of E. W. Mallery, retired state highway patrol sergeant, to the safety chief's post, Council approved an increase in salary for the job from $100 to $200 monthly.

Mallery will succeed Dr.R. J. McConnor, whose resignation is effective Dec. 15. The pay hike will become effective at the same time.

The measure authorizing the increase was passed unanimously and was strongly applauded by Councilman James Aldom, who called the measure "a step in the right direction."

Aldom also spoke in favor of Mayor Dean Cranmer's selection of Mallery. "Mallery is a man with all the necessary qualifications and a man with no 'ax to grind,' " Aldom remarked.

Following tradition of past years, Council okayed free preholiday parking in the three city municipal parking lots and determined that on-street meters would be in effect from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday, instead of the normal 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday and 8 a.m. until 9 p.m. on Mondays and Fridays.

School Crossing Protection

An ordinance authorizing the use of railroad-type aparatus at school crossings also was authorized.

The gates, which will be operated by members of the school safety patrol, will be purchased and installed by the Salem Kiwanis Club and maintained by the school board.

The gates will eliminate the need for schoolboy patrolmen to go into the street to stop traffic. The Kiwanis Club is buying 17 gates to be used at eight crossings.

Mayor Cranmer pointed out that the gates will not eliminate adult patrolmen, but will be used at crossings near the grade schools, currently being operated by the school patrol. A set of the gates is now in use at the Fourth St. School.

Council agreed that the gates will be advantageous and asked that a resolution be drawn up thanking the Kiwanis Club for purchasing them.

Councilman Albert Lesch suggested that a plaque be placed on the W. State St. overpass telling the date it was constructed and listing the names of te city administrators and the Council under which the project was authorized.

Council President Ford Joseph Jr. assigned Lesch to look into the possibility of such a plaque.

Lesch also suggested that names be given to the two streets built as access routes for the houses adjacent to the overpass.

Lesch said he thought one street should be named after C. F. "Pop" Zimmerman, longtime council member and father of Councilman Ralph Zimmerman. Lesch pointed out that "Pop" was one of the first proponents of the overpass.

Councilman Aldom pointed out that the Mayor too, worked very hard getting the overpass projecct approved.

Aldom said that at one time the only thing needed to get the project started, was six Salem businessmen to go to a public meeting and say the overpass would be good for Salem.

"Do you know," Aldom queried, "that Mayor Cranmer and I walked up and down the streets and could not get one so-called businessman to go to the meeting."

"The mayor fought for the overpass when he had nobody on his side. He never gave up. When you go over the overpass in the next few months, don't you forget that if it wasn't for the mayor you wouldn't have had it today," he concluded.

IN OTHER ACTION last night, Council authorized the transfer of $3,000 from the new jeep fund in the fire department to a fund for the purchase of a pick-up truck to be outfitted for fire-fighting and authorized the safety director to advertise for bids.

The city will be helped financially in the purchase by Perry Township which has $2,500 earmarked for the fund. The truck is used to fight small fires in the township as well as he city and is considered a benefit to the township.

Other ordinance passed permit:

Senior High Expansion In Future Is Cited In Report

Superintendent of Schools Paul E. Smith, in his report to a building subcommittee of local citizens on future needs of schools here, has stated that 14 new rooms, plus a quantity of auxiliary space, will be required at the already-crowded Senior High School if the freshman class is moved there in the future.

He bases his determination on the needs of an anticipated 1,400 pupils from 9th through 12th grades, a maximum class size of 30 and flexibility of use and program.

Two classrooms each will be needed for English, mathematics and social studies, each with 750 to 900 square feet. Two special education rooms were recommended with 1,000 square feet each.

Also listed are a distributive education class, reading laboratory, a large group instruction center for 60 to 150 pupils, a multi-purpose science laboratory, industrial arts multi - purpose room and mechanical drawing room.

Other suggestions for the citizen's committee's consideration included storage space for art, special education, English, math, foreign language and social studies, teacher carrels, and a science preparation room.

Smith said, "The wing now used by the Technical Institute has some excellent space which, with improved coordination of its use with the high school program, could possibly serve the need for some of this space.

"There is still the possibility that some federal aid might be available for additional Technical School facilities," he added.

Up To School Board

"These proposals describe space needs based upon a desirable program without letting the existing structures limit thought or recommendation," Smith said.

Final recommendations will be determined by the Board of Education based upon "the recommendation of the building subcommittee, the unique features of each different type of teacher learning area as proposed by teacher committees, the degree to which the existing structures can accommodate the proposed changes, and the willingness of the community to invest now in changes which should provide flexible facilities for a school program in transition."

Following is part of the text of Smith's report outlining the premises upon which the space and other recommendations were made to the building committee:

1. A MODERN comprehensive high school is a vast complex of study and lecture areas, laboratories, a library, shops, offices, physical education facilities and dining areas. It is a working tool with a job to do and countless services to perform. . . . . It is a workshop for

Domer Tells of Money Pinch

Accused Slayer Returns to Stand

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Testifying in his own defense against first - degree murder charges, Robert K. Domer, 43, described Tuesday how he changed from a successful businessman to a harried financial manipulator who forged a $5,000 check on his mother's savings account.

Domer took the stand Tuesday afternoon and was due back again today in Stark County Common Pleas Court.

He is accused of killing Howard F. Riddle, 54, an Akron fruit peddler whose charred body was found in Domer's car near the Stark-Wayne County line April 23. The state charges that Domer killed Riddle to fake his own death so his beneficiaries could collect $288,000 in insuranse.

In narrating his business career, Domer started with his resignation as a vice president of Harter Bank Trust Co. in February 1956. He said he and other investors operated Mortgage Securities, Inc., which flourished to a firm handling 7,000 accounts totaling $93 million when he resigned in May 1961, as president and general manager.

He promptly organized Continental Mortgage Corp. and entered into commitment to buy Euitable Mortgage Co. of Dayton and American Midwest Mortgage Corp. of Detroit, he said.

The $105,000 loan he arranged with a New York lender to finance this deal started him on a downhill slide, Domer said.

First, Domer said, he got only $2,000 from the New York

Bloody Tarawa

Battle 20 Years Ago Costly to Marines

WASHINGTON (AP) — After 20 years, Marine Gen. David M. Shoup still relives the blood - drenched Battle of Tarawa — all but a few vital seconds that remain a blank in his mind.

Those were the second it took Shoup to dash about 40 yards across bullet - and - mortar - swept coral sand to the shelter of a blockhouse wall.

From there, the man who was to become commandmant of the Marine Corps directed the savage assault on the tiny Central Pacific island which Japan had converted into a fortress.

That three - day battle, which began at dawn just 20 years ago today, was the most costly brief engagement in Marine history.

When it was over, 990 Marines were dead — many shot down before they could wade ashore from disabled or stranded landing craft. Another 2,311 Leathernecks were wounded.

Only 18 of the 4,800 - man Japanese garrison lived to be captured. The rest were slain in their bunkers, or killed themselves rather than surrender.

Shoup, 58, has good reason to remember Tarawa — he won the Medal of Honor there.

The citation said this:

"Although severely shocked by an exploding enemy shell soon after landing .. . and suffering from a serious, painful leg wound which had become infected, Col. Shoup fearlessly exposed himself to the terrific and relentless artillery, machinegun and rifle fire. . .

"Rallying his hesitant troops . . . he gallantly led them across the fringing reefs to charge the heavily fortified island and reinforce our hard - pressed, thinly held lines. . ."

Graying but still rugged-looking, Shoup reminisced about the battle as he sat in his big, memento - cluttered office at Marine headquarters.

"It's as clear as though it was yesterday," Shoup told an interviewer in accents that reflected his Indiana birth.

"But there's one period of several seconds that's been a blank all these years.

"I remember looking over a cocoanut log barrier and picking the route I would take. I remember reaching the blockhouse with my radio man. But I've never been able to reconstruct what happened in between."

Shoup had crouched behind the log barrier after wading several hundred yards through shallow water churned by bullets and exploding shells.

Like many of his men, Shoup started walking toward shore when his amphibious tractor was knocked out. His amtrack's driver was picked off.

The colonel clasped his hands with a Marine corporal and began pushing his way along the shallow reef.

"I felt his grip tighten, and I looked around at him," Shoup said.

"A sniper had put a bullet between his eyes."

Shoup was silent a moment, then went on:

"I wouldn't be here today if I hadn't turned to look at him."

For just then, another bullet fired by a Japanese sniper struck the water, spent its force and slammed into Shoup's neck.

If it had hit him in the face, Shoup believes he would have been killed. Instead, he escaped

Contractor Testifies at Fekett Trial

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Youngstown city inspector, Bill Timnik, was employed for two weeks at $92 to pick up tools for the contractor on a job he was inspecting, a witness testified in Federal Court Tuesday.

Patsy Pillorusso, a Girard contractor, admitted during cross-examination that he put Timnik on the payroll for after-hours work on the Kirkmere Creek sewer culvert project in Youngstown.

Earlier Pillorusso had testified that Samuel S. Fekett, former city law director in Youngstown, had demanded a $5,000 payoff from him in exchange for granting a city contract on the Kirkmere Creek project for which Pillorusso had entered a low bid of $79,844 in May 1960.

Fekett is on trial in U. S. District Court on charges of attempted extortion and extortion of money from contractors seek-Youngstown.

Congolese Beat, Jail Two Russians

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Congolese security agents and gendarmes dragged two Soviet diplomats feet first from their car Tuesday, beat them with clubs and hauled them off to jail.

They were still held today.

Soviet embassy officials said the diplomats were embassy counsellor Boris Noronin and press attache Yuri Miakotnykh. The officials said they had no word on their fate.

Eyewitnesses said Noronin and Miakotnykh refused to allow the Congolese to search their car on their return from Brazzaville, across the Congo River. The diplomats claimed diplomatic immunity.

Soviet embassy officials said the Congolese also had cut the telephone and electric supply to the luxury apartment where the 100-man Soviet mission lives and works.

Sources close to the Congolese government hinted that "highly compromising" documents had been seized from the two arrested diplomats.

Gendarmes stood guard outside the embassy building Tuesday night, refusing to allow callers to enter.

Relations between the Congolese government and the Communist block have been bad, and some members of Premier Cyrille Adoula's regime recently were agitating for a break with the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Bulgaria, the Communist nations with which the Congo has diplomatic relations.

An eyewitness to the arrest of the two Russians said when they refused to allow a search

Pro-Communist Violence Leaves 100 Dead, Wounded In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Police firing bazookas flushed snipers from buildingsiin downtown Caracas today as officials strove to quell pro-Communist violence that has left nearly 100 dead or wounded.

A woman was killed and six other persons, including a policeman, were wounded as fighting spread from the workers' suburbs to El Silencio, a district of modern business buildings.

Coming on the heels of Venezuela's, worst day of terrorism Tuesday, the new casualties put the two-day toll at 20 killed and 76 wounded.

President Romulo Betancourt remained in his office throughout the night, directing the roundup of the terrorists by police, the army and national guard.

The number under arrest rose to 150, and police said most were Communist party members. Many were youths who wore black pants and red sweaters as a sort of uniform. Among those held were 40 persons seized by troops Tuesday night for sniping at traffic.

With the return of quiet at dawn, business houses reopened and traffic returned to the streets.

Merchants shut down because of telephoned threats and motorists stayed home Tuesday when Castroite-Communist opponents of Betancourt abruptly stepped up their campaign to unseat him and disrupt the Dec. 1 presidential elections.

Increased terrorism also was reported from cities in the interior.

Many of the casualties in Caracas were bystanders caught in the crossfire between government forces and terrorist snipers. The dead included a 35-year-old terrorist whose legs were tattooed with a hammer and sickle.

Firing centered in the workers' districts on the outskirts of the city.

Unions defied a general strike order from the Red-line Armed Forces of National Liberation. But shootings, bombings and telephone threats to merchants had a paralyzing effect in the capital.

Schools for American children were closed. There were no reports of American casualties.

Betancourt hopes to become Venezuela's first democratically elected president to serve

U.S. Policies In Asia Reviewed

High Level Talks Are Held In Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — High-level talks on the United States' future policies in Viet Nam and all of Southeast Asia began today in Pacific military command headquarters near Honolulu.

The day-long session brought together top - drawer military men and diplomats from Washington and Saigon to map out future strategy in the fight against communism in Southeast Asia.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara arrived Tuesday night and termed the meeting 'just another in a series in which we will review our program of commitments in Viet nam."

McNamara said in a planeside interview that U.S. assistance to Viet Nam in its fight against subversion will be discussed at the session, as well as the return home of U.S. personnel in Viet Nam.

Also scheduled to attend the meeting was Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Secretary of State Dean Rusk was to arrive today.

From Saigon Tuesday came Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, and Gen. Paul D. Harkins, head of the U.S. military advisory group there.

Lodge had talked to newsmen in a planeside interview at Hickam Air Force Base. He indicated he will urge full support of the new South Viet Nam military regime as far as is practical and appeared satisfied with the new leaders.

Lodge, queried on reports that he knew of the coup against now dead former President Ngo Dinh Diem Nov. while Harkins was left in the dark, snapped at a newsman, "Don't ask me things like that."

The political - military talks were prompted by the Diem government's overthrow and were called by the Defense and State departments.

Thrust Into Hands by Stranger

Photos Barghoorn's Passport to Arrest

Washington (AP) — Photographs bundled inside a roll of newspapers and thrust into his hands by a stranger in front of a Moscow hotel apparently were Yale Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn's passport to arrest seconds later by Soviet police.

In the 16 days that he was imprisoned on spy charges, he told newsmen Tuesday, he was not mistreated and signed no confessions.

He said his experience has not shattered his belief that cultural exchange program between the United States and Russia are a good thing. But the State Department still has not given a go ahead for scheduled exchange talks which the United States canceled because of the Barghoorn incident.

Professor, 52, who was released Saturday and returned home Sunday, met with State Department officials for six hours Tuesday to talk about his Moscow experience. Then he met with newsmen, telling this story:

On Oct. 31, the eve of his planned departure from Moscow, he returned to the Metropole Hotel in the Soviet capital around 7:25 p.m. Suddenly he was approached by a "youngish-looking man, carrying what looked like a roll of newspapers."

The man asked something which Barghoorn believes was: "Are you an American?"

"I was startled, said yes, and he pushed toward me the roll of newspapers. I took it. I thought, perhaps foolishly, that it was propaganda material and put it into my coat. Almost simultaneously I was grabbed and hustled off in an automobile."

He said there were photographs in the roll, adding "I would not understand military matters."

Barghoorn said that neither on this trip nor on previous visits to Russia was he on "intelligence assignment."

This Is Best Peanut Brittle Ever

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Asociatd Press Food Editor

Here, in our opinion, is the best peanut brittle in the world.

We came on this recipe in th magazine, "Scouting," in an article called "Brittle Budget."

The article reports that three-quarters of the mothers of the boy scouts in College Station, Texas are engaged in Operation Peanut Brittle! In groups of two or three, they make the candy (to be sold) using the cooking pans, cookie sheets, measuring equipment and thermometers, and ingredients bought by the troop. Here, according to the troopmaster, is how it works.

"All the mothers who participate must attend an instruction session before being issued any ingredients. We begin with one session for a few mothers who will repeat it for groups of others.

Even novices find they can make perfect brittle after this instruction. The makers of "the best peanut brittle you ever tasted' also have to attend a session every year, just to assure uniform results. Last year out of 340 batches only two were failures.

"The candy is stored in airtight tin containers until stapled in plastic bags in 1-pound packaging in a few hours. A couple of nights at the job burdens no one, and the men enjoy working together.

"The cost of ingredients varies. A batch of brittle has run us about 50 cents and netted us a profit of a little more than $1.00 a batch. The Scouts sell about 20 per cent of the supply and the dads the rest. No one ever has reported selling all he could, and many say they could sell more. We are out just to meet our needs, so we quit when we have our budget made"

The College Station recipe in "Scouting" is given in succinct form. So here is our more detailed rule for your home kitchen; our recipe-testing helper followed it beautifully on her first try. The only change in ingredients: the original recipe specifies raw Spanish peanuts and adds a teaspoon of salt and a tablespoon of butter or margarine at the same time the baking soda is stirred in.

Our helper says she likes this brittle because although it is crisp, it's not so hard as other varieties. I relish this brittle for its great flavor and its bubbly texture. Other eaters at our house don't bother analyzing the candy's merits, they just gobble it up.

Best Peanut Brittle

3 cups sugar, 1 cup light corn syrup, ½ cup water, 3 cups salted peanuts, 2 teaspoons baking soda.

In a heavy saucepan stir together the sugar, corn syrup and water. Cook over medium heat, stirring, until temperature reaches 280 degrees on a candy thermometer or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water separates into threads that are hard but not brittle (soft crack stage).

Stir in peanuts gradually, so mixture continues to boil.

Cook, stirring often and watching closely, until temperature reaches 300 degrees or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water separates into threads which are hard and brittle (hard crack stage).

Remove from heat. Add baking soda; stir in gently but quickly.

At once pour candy onto 2 greased large cookie sheets without spreading it with a tool.

Cool. Break into pieces. Makes about 2½ pounds.

Samuel Plimsoll, a 19th century British politician and social reformer, crusaded successfully for more seaworthy ships, and also visited the United States to promote adoption of a less bitter attitude toward England in historical textbooks used in American schools, according to the Enclyclopaedia Britannica.

Fewer People—More Goods

One day last week President Kennedy was telling delegates to the AFL-CIO convention in New York City the most important thing his administration could do was make more jobs.

He said this could be done by enacting his proposals for $11 billion tax reduction — to set the nation "sailing on the winds of the longest and strongest peacetime history."

This has been the presidential state of mind throughout a long preoccupation with unemployment. Mr. Kennedy believes the problem would disappear if he performed magic in Washington.

The day before the President addressed the AFL-CIO convention, however, AFL-CIO President George Meany made a more meaningful statement about the kind of unemployment that continues to rise despite rising employment.

MR. MEANY said he had been forced to conclude there is no element of blessing in automation. He said every important employer was in a "mad race" to get rid of employes.

"Their plans for expansion are staggering," he declared. "And every one of them calls for more and more pushbutton operations, with machines to push buttons, if you please, even eliminating the human element there."

Expansion of enterprise is not, contrary to the Kennedy administration's belief in expansion as a cure-all, going to relieve chronic unemployment.

The race between ways to produce more goods with less manpower and the need to make more jobs for an ever-increasing population has been one-sided so far. "Efficiency" of production has been winning.

Acceleration of economic growth, if such a thing could be brought about by fatening profit margins (the theory of tax reduction) would only add speed to a coming disaster if mass buying power is to be undermined by mass unemployment.

SOMETHING new is happening to the American system of production.

Mechanization produced the abundant life and the era of affluence by stepping up production and employment simultaneously.

Automation is stepping up production while cutting down employment. It has done this in steel, automobiles, rubber and mining. There is no mystery about it. Fewer people are making more goods.

"We cannot take the position that our great economic system is invulnerable; that it cannot collapse," warned President Meany. "This system can go down the drain unless our business community, our great captains of industry and our politicians wake up to this problem."

The waking up should start with President Kennedy. who needs to be set straight about the idea that jobs would pop into being if industry made more profit. Labor Secretary Wirtz needs to explain to him that one of automation's marvels is the way it discards the untrained, the elderly and the marginal from the nation's work force faster than you can say, "Solenoid Button."

Our Fatigue Is Emotional

President Kennedy has used his White House sounding board to wonder for the benefit of a listening world why his countrymen are "fatigued" so long before the battle being waged with foreign aid is over.

The reason is not hard to discover.

Our "fatigue" is emotional, not financial.

Opposition to an open-end policy of providing foreign aid billions ad infinitum is coming from lack of faith.

Not only are we uncertain about the long-term workability of such a policy. We are disturbed about the short-term efficiency of the policy.

MOST OF ALL, we are uneasy about the prospect described by Mr. Kennedy while he was putting us to shame — "I don't regard the struggle as over and I don't think it is probably going to be over for this century."

Mr. Kennedy's countrymen and their representatives and senators are starting to wonder whether a contest that isn't going to be over the rest of this century doesn't call for more imaginative strategy than has been in use so far.

It is like the insistence of Britain's Field Marshal Haig in grinding out World War I in a sterile strategy of trench warfare, heedless of the fact he had lost the confidence of his soldiers, his countrymen and eventually of his associates and the government they were fighting for.

EACH YEAR, Americans lose a little more faith and policy of foreign aid ad infinitum.

It may make sense to field marshals in command posts, but it does not sell itself to troops and taxpayers.

The fatigue that President Kennedy depatience.

The people of America do not share officialdom's confidence in a policy that has been working so well — to hear them tell it — that no end is in sight for the rest of the century.

Good, Gray Youth Movement

It is not surprising to hear Harold E. Stassen is going through the motions of being a presidential candidate again.

What is surprising is that this is no longer surprising.

The one-time governor of Minnesota and symbolic head of the nearest thing the Republican party ever had to a genuine youth movement has achieved the hardy perennial status once monopolized by Norman Thomas.

He has demonstrated the truth of the behind-the-hand crack that no man bitten by the presidential bug ever recovers full that his fever rises and falls thereafter as if he had fallen prey to malaria.

It's a shame, in a way, because at one time the then young man from Minnesota was one of the best things that ever happened to a political party whose image had been aging too fast for its own good. He was only 29 when he burst upon the scene at the Republican convention in 1936.

Three years later he was named Young Man of the Year by the National Junior Chamber of Commerce. In 1940 he was temporary chairman and keynoter of the Republican National Convention. In 1944 he was willing to take the nomination if it was offered. It wasn't.

In 1948, he went after it hammer and tongs. He didn't get the nomination then, either. By this time, the youth image was fading. Harold Stassen was 41. Now he is 56, still no gaffer in age but a well-worn political candidate.

Norman Thomas will be 79 this Wednesday, incidentally. Mr. Stassen has a long time to keep running if his fever continues to rise every four years.

Slowly, Please

By Truman Twill

Whatever is going around this year is the same as what was going around last year—a THING about this long, with barbed-wire whiskers, 48 steel-tipped legs and a stinging tail that leaves a red welt on everything it touches.

The THING spits tobasco sauce when disturbed and its favorite haunt is the middle of the head, where it stomps around like a cat caught under the hood of an auto engine, its whiskers drawing blood at every twitch.

Meanwhile, its long tail is hanging down in the pit of the victim's stomach, squirming and writhing and driving the butterflies down there into nauseating flutters.

Noxious gases emitted from the THING' flared nostrils cause giddiness in the victim. Emanations from its scaly skin spread into the blood stream and cause aching in every joint.

INTRUSION of the foreign body into the cranial recesses of the victim cause swelling and irritation in the nasal membranes, not to mention what its barbed-wire whiskers do to the lining of the throat.

Dandruff loosened by its spasms and convulsions drifts down into the lungs like falling leaves and cause pneumonia.

Its puffings and screams fill the head with reverberating roars.

This is the same THING that was here last year and the year before.

The only thing different this year is the timing of its arrival. This is more illusion than fact, due to the difference in this year's weather.

The THING is not off schedule as far as the weather itself is off schedule. Last year by this time there had been snow; this year the snow is still being held in abeyance. But not the THING.

Its victims are keeling over like flies after a hard frost. They are snuffling and sniffling, moping around, tooting clogged noses, popping pills down their throats and turning green.

"Whatever it is that's going around," they gasp, "I got it good."

THAT'S the THING.

Medical science doesn't know what it is, but its victims do. The THING is nothing more mysterious than what is called the BENDS in deep sea divers.

It is what happens when the human body moves too suddenly from one kind of pressure into another. Nitrogen gets into the blood stream.

Every bone and fiber aches. The victim writhes and bleeds. His head splits with pain.

He is ill at the stomach. He lies groaning and twitching at death's door. The only way to save him is to put him back into the kind of pressure he left too suddenly, then transfer him out of it slowly.

There isn't a thing wrong with any victim of the THING that couldn't be fixed by putting him back into Summer, then taking him out of it by slow degrees -- preferably so slow it would be Spring before the job was done.

There Are So Few Joys Left In Life

Real Labor Story

By VICTOR RIESEL

Fanfare and the international spotlight at the big national AFL-CIO convention went off stage with John Kennedy but to insiders the real story is still in the making at this mass gathering of the nation's 1,200 most influential union chiefs.

Victor Riesel

They are hammering out a dramatic action program which includes a plan for virtual retirement at 50 years of age for some workers, a shorter work week of far fewer than 35 hours and an $80-a-week minimum pay for unskilled hands.

The startling retirement proposal, which is certain to become one of labor's major objectives in the next two years, comes from Ray Corbett, head of the powerful 2,000,000-member New York State AFL-CIO.

Under the proposal of this group, a federal commission would be set up to deal with those industries affected by automation.

The commission would make certain that all workers over 50 years of age, whose jobs are automated out of existence, be kept on by the industry until "their normal retirement" age. Thus, tens of thousands of workers would be supported for as many as 15 years beyond the age of 50 by their industry.

THOSE WORKERS between 35 and 50 replaced by technological advances would be retrained under this plan for five years. During the time they would be paid at least 70 per cent of their former wages.

Just as startling is the coming policy on the shorter work week. Already, within the labor sanctum, the figure of 35 hours work at 40 hours pay is considered outmoded. The nation's labor leaders believe it simply is too long.

One of those who thinks this way is Al Hayes, who stays out of the spotlight, though as president of the million member International Association of Machinists, he is a powerful influence in labor's high command. He told me the other day he believed that "the 35-hour work week will be too long by 1970."

Hayes did not say how short the work week should be, but the general talk "inside" is of 32 hours—and less.

It has been overlooked that when AFL-CIO President George Meany denounced automation as a "curse," he called for ". . . a 35-hour week or less now, and later on God knows only how short it will have to be."

THIS COULD mean a 25-hour week. Virtually everybody has forgotten that a similar national AFL-CIO convention in Bal Harbour exactly two years ago was used as the base for a 20-hour week.

Most delegates and newsmen grinned when they asked Harry Van Arsdale, head of the million-member New York City Central Labor Council, if he meant it when he launched that campaign at labor's fourth biennial convention.

Now at the fifth convention, his union, Local 3, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, has a five-hour day. And Van Arsdale says he'll be around for the four-hour schedule, thus shaving the work day by one hour.

He and his colleagues now are pressing for the summoning of a Full Employment Legislative Conference to Washington shortly, to start the process of trimming the 40-hour week.

Another who believes the 40-hour week is for the Smithsonian Institution is the brogue-rolling Mike Quill, president of the Transport Workers Union.

QUITE SERIOUSLY he told this correspondent that, if the 25-hour work week is good enough for electricians, it should be good enough for subway and bus line employes across the land.

And Walter Reuther has come to New York with a proposal for a flexible work week. He wants the working hours to decrease each week if unemployment increases. All this would be at 40 hours pay, no matter how few hours were worked.

The nation's labor chiefs are mighty serious about this shorter week proposals. Many of them believe they will have President Kennedy's backing. They point out that the President—though he is fully aware of their plans—made no reference to it in his Friday speech. The labor men believe this to be extremely significant.

Also overlooked by observers at this highly political convention is the AFL-CIO proposal for an $80-a-week minimum wage—$2 an hour for the current 40-hour wtek. This would mean a sharp increase from the $1.25 an hour which President Kennedy told the delegates was too low.

Obviously, despite reports in some circles that labor's leaders are getting too old to fight, their fight has just begun.

Bishops' Historic Statement

By DAVID LAWRENCE

A remarkably significant pronouncement has just been issued by the Catholic bishops of the United States. Unlike the annual statements of this group in other years, it doesn't emphasize its own sectarian beliefs but embraces instead the objective of many religions as it reminds the American people of Abraham Lincoln's phrase — "This nation under God."

David Lawrence

The Catholic bishops in their statement dealt with the most delicate questions in the relationship of church and state in implicit rather than explicit terms, thus leaving it to observers to apply the expressed principles either to the Supreme Court's decisions on prayer in the schools or to the limitations on government aid to private schools that happen to be founded by religious groups or to many other issues before the Congress of the United States today.

There was no lack of explicitness, however, as the bishops advocated equal rights and opportunities in the community for citizens of every race or color without discrimination or unfairness. This also as specifically proclaimed in a similar statement by the Catholic bishop 20 years ago.

AN INTIMATION that perhaps the Supreme Court in the past has been more tolerant of religious expression in public institutions than it is today may be derived from the following excerpt of the bishops' statement:

"The recognition of the right of conscience has been basic to our civil traditions. Citizens have found in this a bond of union and the favor of the law in countless cases. No personal right has been so fiercely defended by public authority and so generously construed in court. The tradition of our nation corresponds with the words of Pope John XXIII, 'Every human being has the right to honor God according to the dictates of an upright conscience and, therefore, the right to worship God privately and publicly.'

"A further bond of union has been the general recognition of religious homage to God as a duty as well as a right."

It's possible, therefore, to conclude that the Supreme Court's recent deicisions in the school-prayer cases were in the bishops' minds as they wrote:

"The increasing establishment of secularism as an official American view of life has been steady and well marked. In our education, religious elements have gradually been eliminated by judicial interpretation. This progressive secularization cuts deeply into our schools, but this is only part of its steady growth. . . .

"There is, it is true, a statistical growth in church affiliation, but this is substantially offset by the disturbing alienation of whole areas — education, work, play — from any effective tie with the creator and judge of men and nations."

In one paragraph, the bishops suggested as "urgent questions" the following:

"Are we coming to regard God and religion as irrelevant to everyday life? Have our relative richness and our passion for technological progress stifled our concern for the spiritual needs of man? Are we trying to solve problems of social justice by expediency, with an eye to human convenience rather than the divine will?"

PERHAPS the passage in the bishops' statement that will produce much discussion for a long time to come is that in which the American judicial system is scrutinized. The bishops said:

"Strongly operative among us is the aspiration to establish justice. The courts must maintain vigilance against procedures which offend this cardinal virtue of the decent society.

But the people must be vigilant, too, lest the courts, however unconsciously and with whatever lofty intent, annul the original determination that ours be a government of laws, not of men.

"Our courts must see that the law of the land is so interpreted as to be free from undue influence of particular schools of thought. It has best served the American tradition when the law reflects a community consensus or common understanding of what is best to achieve the commands of justice."

Does this mean that the frequently mentioned radical or conservative philosophies attributed to individual justices are being criticized?

Does it imply support for the oft-repeated argument that the courts must "follow the election returns" and that the judges must be swayed by contemporaneous emotions?

Does it support the theory that the high court should, like a national legislature, be guided by public opinion, rather than be bound by the literal phrases of the Constitution itself?

EMINENT MEMBERS of the bar as well as famous judges in the past have held that the American people should be governed by a written constitution and that it must not be circumvented or superseded or amended by judicial decision under the guise of an interpretation which seeks to embody the political consensus of the moment.

Whether or not one agrees with all the points made by the Catholic bishops' statement, it is well worth careful reading by persons of all denominations.

Ann Landers Answers

Dear Ann Landers: Please answer this question for me. Does sleeping on a sofa hurt the sofa in any way? This may sound silly to you, but there is a big fight going on in our family about this.

My mother and her sister are both widows. My aunt likes to sleep at my mother's house one or two nights a week. My mother has only a double bed in her apartment. She can't sleep with my aunt because my aunt is too restless, so my aunt has been sleeping on the sofa.

My mother bought a new sofa two weeks ago and she does not want my aunt to sleep on it because she says sofas were not built for sleeping. My aunt claims her 150 pounds do not add up to the weight of three people sitting on it.

If you don't know the answer to this maybe you can call a furniture store.—MRS. J.B.

Dear Mrs. J.B.: What your aunt's 150 pounds would do to the sofa is beside the point. It is fairly obvious, however, that she is knocking the stuffing out of the family relationship.

Your aunt should visit your mother during the daytime and sleep at home in her own bed.

Old Argument

Dear Ann: Your answer to "1963 Model Mother" who complained of incorrigible children blamed parents in general for the situation.

Often this is the case but you fail to recognize that some children are born with a greater amount of "The Old Adam" than others.

After a number of childless years my wife and I became adoptive parents and raised three children—none of whom were biologically related.

Two of these children were totally incorrigible. They failed to respond to any type of discipline whatever. We tried withholding privileges, scolding, spanking—all without success. These two children made our lives unspeakably difficult.

The third child was loveable, receptive and a joy. We treated all three children alike, showing no favoritism, yet the results were vastly different.

So you can see, Ann, blaming the parents for everything is not always fair.—ANOTHER 1963 PARENT.

Dear 1963 The old argument, "Is it heredity or environment?" again rears its controversial head. Authorities now agree both factors shape the lives of all of us.

Parents who insist that they treat all their children the same are mistaken. It isn't possible. For one thing, you don't say whether the "good" child was a boy or a girl, if he was the first to be adopted, the second or the third. You didn't tell me how far apart in age the children are and what age you were when you adopted them.

Research has proved that children do inherit definite personality traits but environment shapes the inherited material.

Tortured Mother

Dear Ann: I have not led a very clean life. If I had it to do over again, believe me, I would do many things differently. But there is no point in hashing over past mistakes. What I need to know now is what to do about the future.

My son is 20 and he lives at home. His father lives here also but under the guise of a roomer.

This man knows he is the boy's father and anyone who sees them both would have no trouble guessing. The resemblance is striking. I told my son when he was a youngster that his father was dead. My conscience is bothering me something awful. Shall I tell the boy the truth?—TORTURED.

Dear Tortured: Your signature indicates that you won't be content until you do tell him—so go ahead. Since the resemblance is "striking" he probably knows.

Columbiana Rotarians Hear Dr. McDonough

COLUMBIANA—Dr. John McDonough of Youngstown was guest speaker at Monday's Rotary Club meeting at Valley Golf Club, which featured ladies night.

Dr. Hubert Keylor, program chairman, introduced Dr. McDonough, who told of his experiences as a physician aboard the 15,000 ton ship, S. S. Hope, which he termed a "floating medical teaching center."

According to McDonough, the project, begun in 1960 and sponsored solely by the United States, serves 3 purposes. It provides medical care of the indigent, medical teaching and people-to-people diplomacy in underprivileged countries of the world.

He said, in addition to medical care, the advent of the Hope Project had a sociological and political impact on the peoples of the countries visited. Among the countries visited were Indonesia, South Vietnam and Peru.

DR. McDONOUGH showed colored slides depicting life aboard the Hope, actual treating of patients and scenes from various countries visited. He concluded by saying that the thing most needed in those underprivileged countries is ingenuity, a stabilized government and economic development.

Following the program, Dr. Keylor presented Dr. McDonough with a check in behalf of the Rotary Club for Project Hope.

There were five visiting Rotarians, Adam Smith of Canfield, Randall and Richard Creed and Dave Keslar of Struthers and William Barvitski of Boardman. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lindsay, Sr., Mrs. Dale Young and Mrs. Harry Herrmann.

Next week's program will feature John Rogan, a public accountant of Youngstown, who will speak on the subject, "Processing of An Audit by Internal Revenue." Charles Wright is program chairman.

MUSICA SELECTIONS were played on the piano by Mrs. Beverly Richardson and Miss Sue Dickens at Monday's Kiwanis Club meeting. Program chairman was John Golden.

Kiwanian Jack Rance of Salem was a guest.

A Kiwanian inter-club meeting was attended by Gayle Gloss, Howard Yoakley, William B. Miller and Robert Powers at Mingo Junction Monday.

At next week's meeting, a Thanksgiving program will be presented by Rev. Harold Thiedt.

hints from Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR HELOISE: After our basement had been tiled, we found black tile cement oozing up between the tiles. I tried steel wool soap pads, strong detergent, and what have you, when suddenly I thought of using paste wax.

The floor had been laid early in the spring and several large glops of the black cement had been dropped on the tile and had dried. I scraped up as much of the glops as I could with a scraper.

I then took a paper towel and dipped it into the wax and rubbed it firmly on the smear.

When the cement was loosened I took a clean paper towel and wiped up every bit of the black cement.

The small amount which seeps up through tht cracks between the tiles from time to time can easily be removed the same way.

EASY DOES IT.

DEAR EASY DOES IT: I happen to have wooden parquet floors. This black stuff oozed up over mine, too. We scraped up as much as possible when we could catch it. When we couldn't it left a mess on the rest of the floor.

The most successful method and the easiest method we have found to date is KEROSENE.

Just dip an old washcloth or a piece of sponge in the kerosene and wipe. Voila! The black cement comes off instantly and the kerosene does not leave dull marks on the floor.

HELOISE.

In all, Shoup was struck in nine different places. Most of the wounds were nicks, he said.

His most acute memories are the promises he made in an effort to comfort some of those who were dying under the blazing sun of Tarawa — promises to help take care of their children.

"These promises I made without any realization of how I could fulfill them," he said, "yet those men died believing what I promised."

To make good on those battlefield promises, Shoup has put all his weight behind a scholarship fund set up by the 2nd Marine Division Assn. to educate the children of men who died at Tarawa.

An argument lasting more than an hour followed. The Soviet diplomats sat stiffly in their car.

Finally, the Congolese forced open the car doors, dragged the Russians out and threw them into a Congolese army truck. When they tried to get off the truck, they were beaten with clubs, the witness said.

Another witness said one of the diplomats tried to push a document inside his shirt, but a Congolese grabbed his collar and ripped off his shirt front.

The first secretary of the British Embassy, Douglas Blyth, finally telephoned the Soviet Embassy.

Two Russians from the embassy reached the landing stage after the diplomats had been driven off. It was not known where they were taken.

youth.

2. NO ONE KNOWS with certainty what schools will be, even ten years from now, technology is changing so rapidly. One thing we do know is that major educational improvement will occur only as teachers, administration and the general public recognize that pupils learn as individuals rather than as classes and then plan for and accept the reorganization of daily schedule and given space allocations so pupils can learn at their own rate and in their own ways.

The two secondary buildings will be called upon to serve functions in the days ahead that cannot now be imagined. New knowledge, improved methods and tools of instruction, new services for youth, all are inevitable. Obsolescence develops very quickly in these times of rapid change. Thus, if improvement is to take place the unorthodox of today becomes the orthodox of tomorrow. Hopefully these proposals attempt to capture the spirit of the changing educational scene so that secondary facilities will develop which will accommodate the present as well as the future.

3. A SCHOOL BUILDING is a financial instrument of the community both for now and the years to come. Each citizen has a right to expect that his dollar will be used prudently. The lowest price is not always the best buy. Omission of a needed facility does not yield a savings. The most expensive things one owns are those which he does not use, thus economy comes with planning for the regular and continuous maximum use of each facility.

COLUMBIANA — Councilman Dale Klingensmith, 35, of 110 6th St., planning to attend last night's regular meeting of Village Council, was stricken with a heart attack in the afternoon and rushed to Salem City Hospital.

His condition is described as "poor."

Bids for the truck are to be opened Dec. 14.

Douglas Moore, clerk of the board of trustees of public affairs, was given council's okay via a resolution to advertise for bids for a back hoe for the water and sewer department of the village.

Rules were again suspended and an ordinance was passed transferring $2,000 from the general fund to the park and cemetery fund for the balance of the year.

Kuhlman was asked to compose a letter of appreciation to Congressman Wayne L. Hays for his assistance in obtaining the government grant for the sewage disposal plant.

American Prelates Defend Proposed Declarations

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A group of American prelates led by Albert Gregory Cardinal Meyer of Chicago, joined today in defense of proposed Roman Catholic declarations on Jews and religious liberty. They called on the Vatican Ecumenical Council to adopt the disputed documents.

Moments later, the entire Swiss hierarchy of the Church added its support for the declaration on Jews, and said the council also should speak of "Moslems and all who believe in God in this age of atheism."

Cardinal Meyer was the first of the five American cardinals to speak on Christian unity. The proposed declarations on Jews and religious liberty are contained in a schema "on ecumenism," dealing with Christian unity.

The two declarations have been the main items of controversy since debate on the schema started Monday. Several bishops have criticized the insertion of the declarations into the schema, saying it should be limited to strictly Christian unity matters.

lender—$43,000 less than he expected and needed. Then he lost a contract with a Philadelphia firm which had been buying morgages from his company.

Builders began calling him "at all hours of the day and night" to press for funds, Domer said.

While he was traveling around the country trying to arrange for the funds he had to have, the Philadelphia firm insisted he take back three mortgages he had sold them for $19,000 Domer said.

This was in June 1962, he testified, and he began illegal manipulations to acquire the cash he was unable to borrow. He said he took $12,000 from a custodial account he was servicing for the Federal National Mortgage Association. He tried to obtain $10,000 by offering forged mortgage cancellations as securities, and he forged his parents' signatures to draw $5,-000 from his mother's account, Domer said.

There was a shortage of about $38,000 in his accounts when auditors from the Federal National Mortgage Association checked his books last March, Domer said. He said he stalled for time by telling them he "was sure there was some explanation."

Domer's attorney asked him whether he alone was responsibe for this shortage, and the defendant answered: "Yes, I am."

Youngstown stopped work on the Kirkmere Creek project about three weeks after it started, and Pillorusso testified this was because pipe supplied by Syro Steel did not meet specifications.

The lot could be leased at $100 yearly, with the first lease being for five years.

SPECIAL STYLING

Although there is a constant change in hair design, each feminine personality must consider a coif created to suit her as an individual. The outcome depends largely upon the haircut. This is a specialty and not a do-it-yourself project. You want to look attractive with a hairdo that will complement the current style trends. This is assured with a lovely new "do."

Since your hairstyle is dependent upon a good haircut, be selective as to where it is done.

Bacon Biscuits For Every Meal

Who says that bacon only belongs on the breakfast table. A new recipe for "Bacon Biscuits" has helped break this tradition, making bacon a welcome suppertime guest. Crisp, tasty bacon pieces transform this tender, flaky biscuit into a new taste sensation that is welcome at any meal.

A perfect complement for casseroles and stews, then golden Bacon Biscuits are also ideal to serve with your favorite soup.

BACON BISCUITS

4 slices bacon, 1¾ cups plus 2 tbsp. all-purpose flour, 3 tsp. baking powder, 1 tsp salt, ¼ cup shortening, ¾ cup milk.

Cut bacon into small pieces and fry until crisp. Drain on absorent paper.

Spoon flour (not sifted) into dry measuring cup. Level o'f and pour measured flour into bowl.

Add baking powder and salt flour (not sifted) and stir to blend.

Cut in shortening with pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse meal. Stir in cooked bacon.

Add milk, stirring with a fork until all flour is moistened.

Turn out onto lightly floured cloth-covered board and knead gently 20 times.

Roll to ½-inch thickness. Cut with lightly floured 2-inch biscuit cutter, making one sharp cut for each.

Place on ungreased baking sheet.

Bake at 450 degrees for 8-10 minutes.

Yield 1 dozen biscuits.

If you use pre-sifted self-rising flour (sold in some sections of the country) omit baking powder and salt.

DELUXE PUMPKIN PIE

1 unbaked 9-inch Margarine Pastry Shell, 1 cup brown sugar, 2 teaspoons cornstarch, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon cloves, ¼ teaspoon ginger, ½ teaspoon salt, 3 eggs, slightly beaten, 1¼ cups canned pumpkin, 1½ cups evaporated milk.

Mix sugar, cornstarch, spices and salt in a bowl. Blend in slightly beaten eggs. Add pumpkin; fold in evaporated milk until well blended. Pour into pastry shell. Bake in 425-degree (hot) oven 15 minutes; reduce to 350 degrees (moderate) oven. Bake 25 to 30 minutes longer. Center of pie should be soft. Pie will be firm when cool.

Note: If pumpkin is extremely moist, increase cornstarch to 1 tablespoon.

Squash Pie: One package frozen cooked squash may be used in place of pumpkin.

Cooking Is Fun

NEW REFRIGERATOR CHEESE CAKE

3 envelopes unflavored gelatin, 1 cup milk, 2 eggs, separated, 3 cups (24 ounces) creamstyle cottage cheese, 1 can (6 ounces) frozen lemonade concentrate, ¼ cup sugar, 1 cup heavy cream, whipped, Crumb Crust.

In a 2½-quart saucepan, sprinkle the gelatin over milk to soften. Add egg yolks; stir well.

Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin dissolves and mixture thickens slightly — 2 to 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Sieve cottage cheese or beat on high speed of electric mixer until smooth, 3 to 4 minutes. Stir cottage cheese and unthawed concentrate into gelatin mixture.

In clean bowl with clean beater, beat egg whites until stiff; gradually beat in sugar until very stiff; fold into gelatin mixture. Fold in whipped cream.

Turn into Crumb Crust; sprinkle with reserved crumb mixture. Chill until firm, 2 to 3 hours. Makes 12 servings

To prepare Crumb Crust, mix together 3 tablespoons melted butter, cup graham cracker crumbs, 2 tablespoons sugar and ¼ teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg.

Press ½ cup of the mixture into an 8- or 9-inch spring form pan; reserve remaining crumbs for topping.

BEEF STROGANOFF

3 tablespoons butter or margarine 1 medium-size onion finely chopped) 1 pound sirloin beef (cut into pencil size strips about 2 inches long, 1 can (6 ounces) sliced mushrooms, 2 teaspoons flour, 1 beef bouillon cube, 8 ounces (1 cup) sour cream, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ¼ teaspoon brown gravy coloring.

In a 10-inch skillet cook the onion in 1 tablespoon of the butter until golden; remov and reserve. Add remaining 2 tablespoons butter to skillet and cook meat rapidly in it just until it loses its outside red color; add liquid; add mushrooms to onion and beef. Add enough cold water to the drained mushroom liquid to make ½ cup; slowly stir into flour, keeping smooth; pour mixture into skillet and add bouillon cube.

Cook and stir constantly over low heat until bouillon cube dissolves and sauce thickens; remove from heat. Stir in sour cream, Worcestershire and gravy coloring.

Mix in meat mixture; reheat gently, do not boil. Makes 3 servings.

APPLESAUCE PIE

(One 9-inch pie—serves 6)

¼ cup butter or margarine melted, 1 package (7 ounces) moist toasted coconut, 1 can (1 pound, 1 ounce) applesauce, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons Cream of Rice, quick-cooking rice cereal, 2 tablespoons butter, ½ cup brown sugar, 1 teaspoon ground nutmeg, 1 cup sour cream.

Blend together ¼ cup melted butter with coconut, reserving 1 tablespoon of the coconut to sprinkle over top of pie. Press coconut evenly over bottom and sides of ungreased 9-inch pie pan and chill until firm.

Meanwhile, combine applesauce, lemon juice and salt in top of double boiler and bring to a boil. Sprinkle in rice cereal and continue to cook, stirring constantly, for 5 minutes. Stir in 2 tablespoons butter, brown sugar and nutmeg and cover. Place over gently simmering water for 3 minutes.

Remove from heat and allow to cool then fold in sour cream and pour into pie shell. Sprinkle with remaining toasted coconut. Refrigerate until pie is thoroughly chilled.

Golden Boy

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The latest golden boy in the entertainment producing field began with an aluminum touch. He helped work his way through college selling pots and pans from door to door.

"That was more valuable than anything I learned in class," Martin Ransohoff said. "It taught me the value of contacting people, to know what they think and want."

At 30, he became the youngest chief executive of any corporation listed on the American Stock Exchange.

Now at 35 Ransohoff, who is built like a balding bumblebee, is one of television's most successful producers and is buzzing his way to the top in motion pictures. As a third string in his bow, his firm also turns out commercial and documentary films.

He hit the video jackpot three times with "The Beverly Hillbillies," "Petticoat Junction" and "Mr. Ed."

To critics who regard Ransohoff as "the king of cornbelt comedy," it will come as little consolation that he is planning more network situation series on the same level of folk laughter.

"It doesn't make any sense for our organization to diversify with serious dramas," he said. "We are geared to comedy."

In the motion picture world, Ransohoff is mushrooming with equal rapidity.

He is engaged in a cross-country word battle with MGM studio heads over his wish to include a frontal shot of four live nudes. Such arguments leave the stubby little producer unperturbed. He thrives on controversy, and is more than a mite disdainful of criticism.

Son of a New Orleans coffee importer, Ransohoff adventured in food brokerage and automobile marketing and worked as a free lance writer in Europe before turning to producing.

He operates on the theory that the job of a producer is to find the actual entertainment market, then satisfy it.

If the people want pots and pans, he thinks it is pointless to to try to sell them gold-plated bookends.

"Is there an audience? That's the first question to ask," he said. "If you lose sight of that, you're in big trouble."

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Health Questions And Answers

Q—My husband had an operation on his right hand two years ago for Dupuytren's contracture. Within a year the contracture had returned. Is this usual? What should he do now?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — Dupuytren's contracture is a progressive thickening of the strong fibrous sheath (palmar fascia) between the skin of the palms and the tendons of the hand muscles.

It affects men more than women. The exact cause is not known but heredity may be a factor. Although many men blame the type of work they do, it has been shown that this is not a cause. It is as common in office workers as in manual laborers and may develop or progress in invalids who do no work at all.

It appears to occur more frequently in alcoholics and epileptics but the reason for this is not known. As it progresses the fingers are drawn toward the palm. The only effective treatment is an operation in which the palmar fascia is completely removed by careful dissection. The best results are obtained when the operation is performed early in the course of the disease.

Even with the best of surgery the condition sometimes returns. Treatment of such a recurrence would depend on such factors as the age and occupation of the victim and how long he had had the disease. These items should be discussed with a surgeon who has wide experience in treating diseases of the hand.

Q—Can a cyst on an ovary ever be treated without removal of the ovary? Are such cysts ever cancerous? What causes them?

A—There are several kinds of ovarian cysts and although we can classify them we don't know what causes them. Less than one in 1,000 are cancerous. Simple nonmalignant ovarian cysts may present a problem because of their size, because they may become as large as a football. Others may be attached to the ovary by a stalk. If the stalk gets twisted this inerferes with the blood supply and causes great pain. These and other complications call for an operation.

In general, any ovarian cyst that is more than 2½ inches in diameter or is causing symptoms should be removed. In a woman of child-bearing age an effort is usually made to remove the cyst without removing the ovary unless there are signs of malignancy or other complications.

Youth Placed on Probation In Shooting

LISBON — A 16-year-old West Township youth was placed on probation Monday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin in the Oct. 26 shotgun shooting of James Sanor, 17, Minerva RD.

They went to the home, scraped on the windows and doors, then drove away. After several such pranks, they heard a shot and Sanor yelled that he had been hit.

Authorities said they found a rifle slug and shotgun pellets in the car.

Yeagley Gets Scholastic Award At West Branch Dinner

Capacity Crowd Honors Athletes

Jon Yeagley, who injured his neck just prior to the last game of the season, received the scholastic award at the West Branch football banquet Tuesday night in the school cafeteria.

A capacity crowd attended the annual dinner, sponsored by the West Branch Boosters Club, and listened to Mount Union Football Coach Ken Wable, guest speaker, tell them what college coaches look for in a football player. He stressed that it is tough to get in to college anymore.

Ron Dierks, head mentor for the Warriors, gave a few remarks about his schools' 3 - 7 season, then distributed awards to his three, two and one-year varsity players.

MAJOR TROPHY presentations were given to junior Lou Gliozzi, most improved; Phil Sharp, best lineman; Gary Barber, best back; and to the co-captains John Mench and Ron Bartholomew.

Monograms were given to the varsity players getting their first award. Silver miniature footballs were given to two-year veterans and bronze belt buckles to boys who had been regulars for three seasons.

Wable pointed out that coaches recruiting first look for a boy who has been a good citizen in school, then check on his scholastic background and what kind of an attitude he has.

He said, "coaches check on a prospective collegiate scholarship candidate's training habits, their ability to perform both on and off the football field."

He went on to say, "we look for an aggressive boy, one who has good posture, manners and takes pride in his appearance. We want young men who are mature and have a purpose in life."

Freshmen received numerals and a special "player of the game" award was presented to six individuals. The list of Frosh included Paul Antram, Dave Apple, Ken Behner, Rick Bell, John Boron, Jim Chain, Ed Cline, John Hawkins, Gary Kelly, Steve McQuilken, Bill Moler, Harrold Rhoads, Dick Runzo, Dan Shaw, Mike Stoffer, Lynn Swallow, Bob Vizzuso, Jim Wayt, Joe Wilson, Dave Wyss and John Stanley.

-:-

DIERKS SAID "THE varsity squad was a good group to work with; they were loyal, dedicated and tried hard at all times."

The football team presented gifts to the varsity coaching staff which included Llewellyn Thompson, Bob Frederick, Steve Tucker and Dierks.

-:-

MRS. SUE STROUP, who is in charge of the cheerleaders, introduced and presented awards to varsity performers Cheryl Barnett, Kathy Kile, Jill Schaffer, LaVonda Call, Joan Meissner and Helen Runzo.

She presented reserve letters to Leslie Albright, Linda Barber, Peggy Bircher and Arlene Curphey.

Freshman numerals were given to Linda Aebi, Cynthia McElroy, Sally Miller, Charlotte Price, Glenda Mae Stine, and Marsha Tancer.

Football managers George Hancock and Gary Marsh were also given awards.

Toastmaster for the event was Don Abels.

Wayne Fieldhouse and Bob Morrow were co-chairmen for the banquet committee. The West Branch Band Mothers served the dinner. Rev. Richard Borngen gave the invocation.

A DOUBLE-BARRELED SUCCESS STORY

Joe, a bright young fellow in our neighborhood, has discovered that reading about frogs in a biology book and disecting them in "lab" are quite different things. "I never really knew much about a frog until I saw him close-up," Joe recently explained.

Joe also has discovered that his newspaperboy business is an important laboratory course. It permits him to see his school work close-up. Through his business he has learned the importance of math, public speaking, social studies, and a whole string of others. It is clear to him that his practical business experience is an important supplement to his school work. As a consequence, he works harder at both. His business is growing. His grades are improving. A double-barreled success story!

with a NEWSPAPER BUSINESS of his own and his parents behind him a GREAT FUTURE lies ahead

New Baltimore Pilot Has Players' Respect

Hank Bauer Thinks He Can Make Orioles Contender In AL Race

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP) — Hank Bauer looks upon managing the Baltimore Orioles as a simple thing.

"The ball players know me, if I ask them to do something, they'll do it for me," he believes. "They know I'm strictly for the ball player."

He displayed this camaraderie at a news conference Tuesday confirming his engagement in a one-year contract as the new Oriole manager.

During a lull in questioning by newsmen, the relaxed Bauer said to the back of the room: "Got any questions, Jim?"

"You're the only man with a job," shot back Gentile, the first baseman who is one of the Orioles' problem children.

"I don't think you have anything to worry about," said Bauer reassuringly.

Lee MacPhail general manager, made it clear he hired Bauer to replace Billy Hitchcock in hopes he would get more out of the Orioles as individual players.

"I think he has the quality of leadership to put some spark in our ball club to change it from just another first division club to a true contender," is the way MacPhail expressed it.

The feeling for Bauer among the players was shown by the presence at the news conference of third baseman Brooks Robinson, pitchers Milt Pappas and Dick Hall in addition to Gentile.

Except for the possible acquisition of a left-hand batting outfielder, Bauer said he planned to start the same Orioles who finished fourth the past season — "until proven otherwise."

"Our most pressing problem is scoring runs," he declared. "I think the pitching is very good and the defense good."

Browns To Face Most Improved Passer In NFL

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns, victims last Sunday of the nearly unstopable passing of St. Louis quarterback Charley Johnson, will be up against one of the National Football League's most improved passers here Sunday in Dallas' Don Meredith.

Meredith, who until four weeks ago had been alternating at quarterback with Eddie LeBaron, has moved up in the NFL's proficiency's rankings from 15th to third.

In four games—against Pittsburgh, Washington, San Francisco and Philadelphia — Meredith has hit on 86 of 130 passes for 1,205 yards and 12 touchdowns. Although the Cowboys have a puny 3-7 record, they have won two of their last three games.

The Browns and Cowboys met earlier this year while Cleveland was riding a five - game winning streak. Cleveland won that game 41-24.

MSU Favored To Win Big 10 Title, Rose Bowl Trip

Spartans Face Illinois Next

Scribe Also Picks Pitt, USC, Sooners

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Harvard and Yale have been playing each other in football since 1875 and their games virtually always are in doubt until the final tackle. Saturday's fray shouldn't be any different.

Although the Harvards come into this one needing a victory for a possible Ivy League crown, don't lock the Yales out.

Last week there was a bit of left-handed forecasting with 41 correct guesses and 13 wrong ones. That's a .759 average, a sharp slump from the .807 figure of the week before. The season's totals now are 354-121 for .746.

It is rare when the final big Saturday of the season pairs the last two remaining contenders in at least two conferences against each other. That's the case in both the Big Ten and Big Eight circuits.

So here's how things should turn out:

Michigan State over Illinois: Sherm Lewis, the Mighty Mouse of Michigan State, is the irresistible force while Dick Butkus of Illinois is the immovable object. This time the immovable object is the loser and the Spartans win the Rose Bowl berth.

Oklahoma over Nebraska: Not since the glory days of Biff Jones and the 1940 Rose Bowl season have the Cornhuskers flashed the muscle as shown by Dennis Claridge and his mates. But Oklahoma has muscle and speed.

Washington over Washington State: Out in Seattle they say that the star of the Washington team is the unspillable Junior Coffey. The Cougars will discover it is true.

Pittsburgh over Penn State: The Pitt quarterback merely has to Dial M for Murder — and either Fred Mazurek or Paul Martha will answer.

Auburn over Florida State: Jimmy Sidle and his mates with relative ease, unless the entire Tiger is busy thinking about next week's game with Alabama.

Southern California over UCLA: The clock has struck the midnight hour for the Cindrella boys from UCLA.

Duke over North Carolina: Jay Wilkinson will be the difference even though the Tar Heels have players named Edge and Braine.

Others: Iowa State over Drake, Purdue over Indiana, Iowa over Notre Dame, Kansas over Missouri, Ohio State over Michigan, Wisconsin over Minnesota, Oklahome State over Kansas State, Bowling Green over Xavier, Cincinnati over Miami (Ohio), Toledo over Detroit, Wichita over Idaho State, Illinois over North Texas State.

Brown Regain NFL Scoring Lead Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Brown of Cleveland regained the scoring lead from Green Bay's Jerry Kramer and Roosevelt Taylor of the Chicago Bears took over first place in interceptions in weekend play in the National Football League.

Although Brown's Cleveland Browns dropped out of a first-place tie in the Eastern Conference by a 20-14 defeat at the hands of St. Louis, Jimmy scored his 13th touchdown of the year for a total of 78 points. Jerry Kramer's only point was a conversion after the Packers' lone touchdown in that 26-7 defeat at Chicago. Kramer now has 76 points, only two more than New York's Don Chandler.

Brown gained 154 yards in 22 attempts, pushing his total for the year to 1,447. Another day like that and he will beat his own league record of 1,527 set in 1958. He needs only 80 yards and has four games to play.

Taylor grabbed two of the five interceptions by the Bears against Green Bay for a leading total of seven for 118 yards. Dick Lynch of New York still has the most yardage with 152 on six interceptions.

Iowa State's Blackwell Voted Lineman of the Week by AP

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — "The measure of a great football player is how he performs in the clutch, and Denby Blackwell's performance against Iowa State last weekend measured up to the fondest dreams of any coach."

That was Coach Doug Weaver of Kansas State speaking Tuesday after he was informed that Blackwell had been chosen Associated Press Lineman of the Week.

Blackwell, a mathematics major from St. Louis, caught a fourth-quarter pass on a 25-yard play that set up K-State's clinching touchdown in the 21-10 victory over Iowa State. The victory snapped a string of 26 losses in the Big Eight Conference.

Blackwell wasn't even supposed to be in the game at that point, but Weaver hadn't been able to substitute Ralph McFillen, the Wildcats' regular split end. Blackwell is used chiefly as corner back on defense.

Later Blackwell intercepted a pass and returned it 39 yards to the nine, setting up an insurance touchdown.

But his performance was no fluke. Known as a "real steady player," he has seen action in all K-State's games.

Blackwell's own comment was characteristic of his quiet, hard-working approach.

"I'm completely flabbergasted but very happy," he said. "I appreciate the honor very much. But, more than personally, I feel it is a tribute to one of the finest team efforts in which I have ever had a part."

Blackwell, a junior, stands 6-foot-2 and weighs 183. His closest competition for the honor came from John Hughes of Southern Methodist, an earlier Lineman of the Week.

Hughes, on a goal-line stand, made two tackles and batted down a fourth-down pass in the end zone, preserving SMU's 14-7 victory over Arkansas. In the fourth quarter, on a fourth and two situation on the SMU 10, he brought down the ball carrier a yard short of a first down.

Other line standouts last week included guards Eddie McQuarters of Oklahoma and Bruce MacDonald of California, and end Ivory McDowell of Iowa.

Sherman's Run Against ND Brings Back Of Week Honors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When you've got Michigan State backed up against their own goal line, watch out.

Notre Dame penned the Spartans on their 15-yard line in the fourth quarter Saturday, and a 7-6 Irish lead was looking good. Then Sherman Lewis, only 152 pounds, burst all the way for the touchdown that gave Michigan State a 12-7 victory.

It was the fifth time this year that Sherman had gone more than 80 yards, and the run earned the senior co-captain of the Spartans the Back of the Week honor in The Associated Press survey.

Lewis, who comes from Louisville, Ky., also scored the first Michigan State touchdown. He was the leading rusher for the Spartans with 138 yards and played on defense most of the game.

It was a good Saturday for running backs, elsewhere. Junior fullback Brian Piccolo of Wake Forest led his team to a 20-19 victory over South Carolina, breaking the nation's longest major college losing streak at 18. Piccolo gained 140 yards in 21 rushes and started the comeback from a 19-7 deficit with a 16-yard touchdown run. Then he kicked the game-winning extra point.

Paul Martha, Pitt's left halfback, scored on a long run for the second week in a row to start the victory over Army. He had 103 yards on six carries.

Fullback Steve Murphy gained 103 yards for Northwestern, more than the entire Ohio State team, and had two touchdowns.

Sophomore halfback Larry Shields scored both touchdowns for Oklahoma against Missouri, one on a blittering punt return, and made two important pass interceptions.

Two quarterbacks, Terry Isaacson of Air Force and Archie Roberts of Columbia, scored twice, set up three other touchdowns and a field goal and punted for a 50-yard average against New Mexico. Roberts passed for three touchdowns and ran for a fourth against Penn.

Celtics Post 126-98 Win In NBA Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

O.K., Boston, we get the point.

If the Boston Celtics are really out to prove they can win in the National Basketball Association without the retired Bob Cousy they are doing a good job of it.

The Celts dealt the rejuvenated New York Knicks a sharp lesson in the second game of a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden Tuesday night, to make their season record 12-1. The score was 126-98.

The Knicks, who had won three in a row for the first time since anyone could remember, were talking about cooling off the Celtics, but Boston put the chill on them instead.

The second place Cincinnati Royals chopped down the Detroit Pistons 127-102 in the first game.

In the other NBA game, the San Francisco Warriors jumped off to a 66-43 lead at the half, and coasted to a 129-96 victory over the St. Louis Hawks, leaders in the West.

Tigers Capture 3rd Straight Ohio Conference Crown

Edwards Guides Wittenberg (8-0-1) To 2nd Undefeated Campaign In Row

By HAL PARIS

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Want a sure-fire recipe for a winning football team?

Blend a veteran, knowledgeablt coach with a dozen talented players. Sprinkle in a liberal dosage of enthusiasm and determination. Then mix vigorously.

Those are the main ingredients that make up the Wittenberg success story.

The man most responsible for building the Springfield university into a small college power is 58-year-old Bill Edwards.

Edwards, who serves both as athletic director and football coach, has plied his trade for more than 30 years.

A 1931 graduate of Wittenberg, Edwards returned to his alma mater as head football coach in 1955. In nine seasons here, he has guided the Tigers to four titles and one co-championship with an overall 62-13-4 record.

Wittenberg hasn't lost a game in two years and has copped an unprecedented three straight Ohio Conference championships. Only an early season deadlock with Otterbein marred this seasons 8-0-1 performance.

An associate of Edwards says the Wittenberg mentor has a knack for getting his team up week after week.

"The kids will do anything he asks them to," he says. "They have tremendous respect for him. They think the world of him."

Last year's Wittenberg squad is generally regarded as the best Tiger team in history. The 1926 edition went unbeaten in nine games and held the opposition to a mere 37 points.

But this year's team has to rank as the best ever offensively.

Wittenberg, sparked by the brilliant combo of quarterback Charlie Green and 6-foot-5 end Bob Cherry, ran up 365 points in its nine outings, or 40 points a game.

Green, a junior, led the conference in passing and total offense with some convincing statistics. He completed 114 of 182 passes for 2,181 yards and 19 touchdowns and added another 43 by rushing for a net total of 2,224 yards, a loop record.

Cherry, his favorite target, grabbed 45 pitches for 886 yards and 13 touchdowns, also a record.

Wittenberg piled up 4,095 yards during the season, a whopping 455 yards a game.

Inter-League Baseball Trades Swing Into Action Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) —Their appetites whetted by the big trade involving Rocky Colavito, major league baseball owners get their chance to swing into high swapping gear beginning at midnight tonight.

That's the opening hour of the annual interleague trading period, which will run until midnight Dec. 15.

Some big names have been talked about.

Cincinnati could possibly be tempted to part with Vada Pinson, Joey Jay or Gordy Coleman, if the right bait is offered in exchange.

Three National League sluggers, Orlando Cepeda of San Francisco, Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee and Frank Thomas of the New York Mets, might be had for the right price.

Among the American League players discussed in trade rumors are Leon Wagner of the Los Angeles Angels, Jim Gentile of Baltimore and Lu Clinton of Boston.

The American League teams seem particularly anxious to make personnel changes after the Los Angeles Dodgers proved in the World Series that the Yankees can be beaten.

Water District Trustees Named

LISBON — Appointment of a five-member board of trustees of the Southeastern Water and Sewer District was approved Tuesday by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Named trustees were:

David E. Beatty and B. Wayne Barnard, East Liverpool, for five-year terms; John M. Duffy, RD 2, East Liverpool, four years; Emil G. Dominick RD 3 and Stewart A. Snyder, MC 22, East Liverpool, three years.

Beatty was appointed by Probate Judge Louis Tobin; Barnard by Judge Buzzard, and Duffy by the county commissioners. The appointees selected the other two. The pay is $36 annually.

Commissioners filed the petition to create the water district in July at the request of residents of a 14-square mile area in Liverpool and St. Clair Townships.

No one opposed the proposal at a hearing Sept. 5. Residents of the affected area will have an opportunity to vote on construction proposals.

Five county patients are in veterans hospitals and 10 are in other hospitals.

The county now has 150 persons on medication furnished by the control clinic.

Feeder Pig Project

Farmers in Columbiana County and neighboring areas are being invited to attend a feeder pig meeting next Monday at the Extension Service Office in Lisbon.

The meeting is sponsored by Producers Livestock Association, which is starting a new quality crossbred feeder pig production program in eastern Ohio. In the beginning it is centered in Harrison, Columbiana, Jefferson and Carroll Counties. Producers have been working in close cooperation with Clarence Bowen of the state Extension Service staff and have received the cooperation of county agents throughout eastern Ohio.

Purpose of the Nov. 25 meeting, according to Mel Ebright, supervisor of the program for producers, will be to explain the new project to interested farmers. A number have already taken steps to participate. The first high - quality gilts were delivered to them on Nov. 19.

Ohio hog feeders last year imported 258,000 feeder pigs from other states, Ebright points out. Many of these did not have the quality which Ohio farmers want. The new Tend-R-Leen program is designed not only to produce top quality pigs within the state to meet the requirements of hog feeders, but also to provide additional income for the pig producers.

Only top-quality breeding stock will be used. Gilts are required to have a potential cut-out of 55 per cent of lean cuts of carcass weight. Purebred boars to be used in the program will have a potential cutout of 55 to 60 per cent. Slaughter testing of leading Ohio herds is being done by Producers through the cooperation of Sugardale Provision Company at Canton, to find breeding stock which meets the qualifications of the Tend - R - Leen program.

The new program, Ebright emphasizes, will in no way conflict with feeder pig improvement projects and the graded pig sales developed in several Ohio areas during the past four years.

Land Bank Meeting

Directors will be elected when members of the Federal Land Bank Assn. of Minerva have a stockholders' meeting Saturday at 11 a.m. at Sandy Valley High School.

Joseph D. Pittman will be in charge of the meeting which will be followed by a turkey dinner at noon.

At the afternoon session, William Craig, chairman of the speech department at the College of Wooster, will be guest speaker.

4-H Committees To Meet

Some 40 4-H advisers and members are expected to meet Thursday evening at the Mahoning Extension Office in Canfield to help plan activities and programs for 4-H Work in 1964.

These people, members of seven 4-H Council sub-committees, will discuss changes which need to be made in projects, ways of making activities more beneficial to members, and methods of evaluating club members' work.

The committees will make recommendations in the following areas: Activities, clothing, nutrition, agricultural engineering, livestock, saddle horses, and co-educational projects.

Robert Groves, Mahoning County 4-H agent, says purpose of these meetings is to involve people in the planning phase who are working closely with the 4-H young people. The recommendations of the committees will be reviewed by the 4-H Council. The Council and Extension Agents then prepare plans for the 1964 4-H year.

'Ag' And 'Home Ec' Career Day

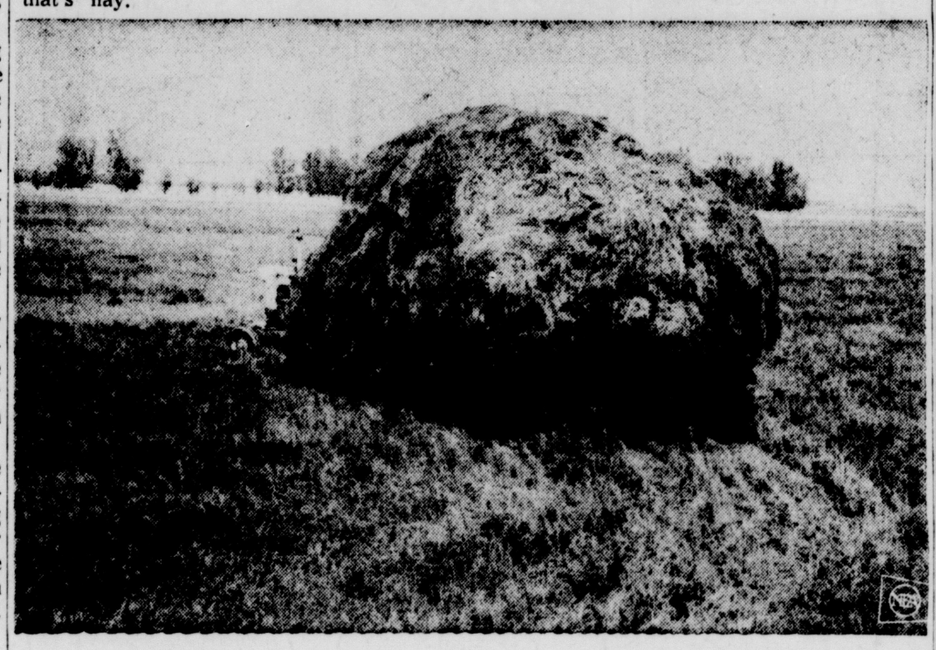

The Ohio State University College of Agriculture and Home Economics will hold a Career Day for prospective students on Saturday, Dec. 7.

The session for agriculture students will be at the Agricultural Administration Building auditorium and the session for home economics students at the Campbell Hall auditorium. Both programs will begin at 9:30 a. m. and end at 2:30 p.m.

Program highlights will include a talk by Dr. Roy Kottman, dean of the college concerning "Modern Concepts of Agriculture and Home Economvics", and small discussion groups in which parents and prospective students may ask questions of upper-classmen and faculty members.

PITCHFORK ON WHEELS — City folk driving past farms in the northern United States and Canada may be startled in the future to see a haystack chasing a tractor. Thanks to the ingenuity of South Dakota farmer-mechanic Fritz Lahman, farmers can take the drudgery out of hauling hay a forkful at a time from field to barn lot for winter cattle feeding. In top photo, the "5-Minute Stack Mover" is shown backing up to a haystack. A cable placed around the stack is winched in, pulling the stack onto the carrier. Below, the huge haystack weighing many tons is then hauled off with a saving of many man hour of work. To farmers, that's hay.

TO BECOME CITY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mentor will become a city officially in 30 days. Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has issued a proclamation changing the status of the Lake County village.

He acted after certification by the County Election Board that Mentor's population exceeded 5,000 on Election Day Nov. 5.

Butler Grange Convenes

Robert Walton presided at the regular meeting of the Butler Grange.

Annual oyster supper will be held at 7 p.m. Dec. 7 at the grange hall. All members and their familes are urged to attend.

The Master gave a report of officers conference held at Elkton grange Tuesday night.

Ohio state Grange will be held in Akron in 1964 with Columbiana County granges to host the event, and a donation was given for that purpose. Donations were also given to Boy Scouts and for the purchase of Christmas seals.

The program theme was "Veterans Day" and readings were given by Mrs. Claudia Mountz, Mrs. Robert Bloor and Mr. Robert Walton. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Conser performed for their group and a "pot luck" lunch was served by social committee, consisting of Mrs. Wilbur Wood and Jean Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mercer and Miss Cindy Whinery.

Juvenile grange held their meeting at the same time with Jim Voytek, master in charge. A program of readings and quizes were enjoyed and seashell craft work was done after the meeting.

75 At Pomona

Approximately 75 persons attended the Pomona Grange meeting Saturday night at Greeley Grange hall at Chambersburg.

It was announced that the exchange project for this year's subordinate granges will be "Care of Implements or Working Tools."

Columbiana County granges will put on the 5th degree in Stark County Feb. 29.

A $10 pledge was given to Christian Rural Overseas Program.

The following lecturer's program was in charge of Mrs. Paul Oyer of Bayard Grange: group singing; two readings by Guy Frantz, Mt. Nebo Grange; accordion solo by Barbara Walters, Bayard; skit, "Going Home to Father," by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hahn, Greeley; poems by Pauline Mansfield, Pleasant Valley, and Mrs. Esther Schandel, Greeley; stunt, Mary Laice Murray, Greeley, and remarks by Norman Barnett, Mile Branch.

Lunch following the meeting was served by the host grange.

Perry Will Meet

Members attending the meeting of Perry Grange Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the grange hall are requested to bring a pot-luck lunch for the refreshments.
